COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

There were several changes made by the Budget Committee Wednesday night in the proposed budget submitted by the Manager.

Those changes were made in an attempt to reduce the tax rate from the original increase of approximately seven mills to as near last year's rate as possible.

The school request is going to be much more than was anticipated when the budget was prepared for approval by the Selectmen.

There were reductions made in the Sewer, Street Capital Improvement Fund and Dutch Elm Control accounts. The Fire Dept. Equipment, Chamber of Commerce, Revaluation of Property, Dump Improvement, Highway Dept. Equipment and Surveying Streets and Road accounts were deferred to the next meeting when they will be considered.

There will have to be considerable paring of the remaining accounts to reduce the appropriations to the point where we do not get such an increase as was indicated.

Persons desiring to have special articles inserted in the town meeting warrant should submit them by Friday, Jan. 31, so that they may be inserted in the warrant printed in the annual report.

DIRECTORS FAIL TO APPROVE 1969 SCHOOL BUDGET

School Administrative District 44 directors met Monday evening, Jan. 20, at Andover for their third budget meeting. A meeting was scheduled for Wednesday night at Telstar Regional High School for further consideration of the budget.

The budget submitted to the directors Monday night was recommended by Supt. Ralph Ryder. It adopted this year's budget would reportedly be $1,335,922 with the towns in the district contributing $671,362. The 1968 budget called for $460,400 to be raised by the towns out of a total budget of $1,062,300.

Roger Spugnardi, elementary supervisor, introduced Bill Koen, art supervisor at Telstar Regional High School, and Edward Dicenso, Art Consultant, State Department of Education, to address the group on the need of an art instructor in kindergarten through the sixth grade in the district.

It was their feeling that to extend the art department would be meaningful. According to Mr. Dicenso, art is a natural process that should be developed. This would require a teacher of specialized training. He said students are apt to get by with the training of a regular teacher and specialists are needed to round out the program.

Directors voted to hire four additional teachers in the elementary system. This would include a guidance counselor, an art supervisor, and two regular classroom teachers. Mrs. Joan Wiese, Bethel, asked to go on record as opposing the additional guidance position, feeling that this was the wrong time to start a new plan that would not be staffed adequately and therefore should be put off until 1970. It was voted 11 to 3 in favor of hiring the teachers following a motion by James Fiske of Bethel.

It was recommended to hire two additional teachers in the secondary level, a physical education instructor and a language instructor. As yet this has not been approved by the directors.

Mr. Ryder reported that there had been a fire drill at Telstar and signs locating the exits were in place. Mrs. Wiese requested that a report be given at the next meeting as to the number of parents who have been involved in direct contact with the guidance department.

An executive session of the directors was held to discuss teachers salaries.

At the meeting Wednesday evening further discussion was held on budget items. A special directors' meeting will be held at Telstar Regional High School Monday evening, Jan. 27, at 7:30 p. m. A budget for 1969 will hopefully be adopted following additional discussion of the instruction portion.

ORONO GIRL RECEIVES FIRST HATCH MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP AT UNIVERSITY OF MAINE

Miss Cherie Ann Milheron, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald M. Milheron of 188 Bennoch Street, Orono, a sophomore at the University of Maine, is the first recipient of the Elise R. Hatch Memorial Scholarship for the academic year 1968-69.

In announcing the selection university officials said that Miss Milheron most closely exemplified the traits of leadership, scholastic attainment, values and interests of Miss Hatch who died following an automobile accident Sept. 6, 1967, at Orono.

Miss Milheron will receive the earnings from the endowed fund which was established by schoolmates, friends and relatives of Miss Hatch in her memory. The annual income from the award will be given each year to a woman student from Maine following her freshman year at the University of Maine. The Distinguished Maine Scholar Award which Miss Hatch would have received at the U. of M. for the fall of 1967 constituted a part of the Memorial Fund.

University officials, in announcing the award, pointed out the "uncanny" similarities between Miss Milheron and Miss Hatch. Both were selected as freshman members of the U. of M.'s 1971 class; both were continued on Page Four

COMSAT FILES CIVIL SUIT FOR TRADEMARK INFRINGEMENT

The Communications Satellite Corporation (COMSAT) filed a civil action January 16 against Comcet, Inc., a corporation established in 1968 to build and market communications computers, alleging trademark infringement and unfair competition.

Brought in the United States District Court for the District of Maryland, the suit seeks to stop Comcet, Inc., from continuing its use of the word "COMCET" because of its similarity to COMSAT, the registered service mark and trademark of the Communications Satellite Corporation. COMSAT's previous requests to Comcet, Inc., that it voluntarily change its name to avoid confusion, were refused, the brief said.

GREENWOOD CITY — SOUTH WOODSTOCK

— Mrs. Collie Morgan, Corres. —
Seek beauty and you find it in so many things past and present. It is in the friendly handshake or a happy smile on the face of one you meet.

Beauty comes from the sound of music in the heart, the song of a bird, or the rustle of leaves.
At the break of day in the golden dawn beauty is fresh on the greening hills or when the countryside is white with snow. There in the distance one may see a mailbox path on a little round hill covered with pine, an expression of grandeur and solemnity. A pine grove has character unique, with a certain harmonious blending of lightness and darkness, bringing a feeling of cheerfulness or gloom; lights ever changing because of the thickness above. Sometimes passing beneath we feel a little of the religious awe as when passing beneath the great arches of a cathedral.

Underneath and among the winter trees are woodland creatures seeking a warmer nook from winds that whisper of zero weather. Within their sheltered haunts are the foxes with graceful beauty gliding from the stone fences across the snow. Within a hollow trunk sleeps the raccoon waiting, just waiting. The rabbit, the partridge, the mouse with its lace trails here and there, and the white-tailed deer biding time 'til another spring.

These same trees whisper to those that nestle there while branches reach upward toward the brightness of the sky, while the silent earth is resting enfolded in the silence of white solitude.

Out across the frozen field or down a trodden trail the winter moonlight leads us through the rustle of cattle weeds to a pond's edge. Pause here for grace and beauty as skates cut figures in the ice, and skaters whirl around and round silhouetted against the gleam of a distant bonfire.

Then the glow of a light in the window leads to the cheery warmth of home.

"Beauty is so many things, friends we know and love... Little things and shining stars, snow-white clouds above. All our hearts might find worthwhile in this world of His... A garden path all fresh with dew, that's what beauty is."
(Garnett A. Schultz)

'WHATSOEVER THINGS'

by Donald E. Wildmon

About 1900 years a fellow by the name of Paul wrote that he had a "thorn in the flesh." No one has ever known for sure what Paul's "thorn in the flesh" was, but many seem to think it was a physical defect. Despite his "thorn in the flesh," or maybe because of it, Paul became one of the most outstanding characters of all history. Now there is not a single one of us who does not have some sort of handicap, or a "thorn in the flesh." Most of us like to blame our shortcomings and failures on that handicap, but we should not. I would like to pass along to you a list of people who have been bothered by the "thorn in the flesh."

Poverty was the handicap of this man. He was so poor that at the age of 6 he practiced his numbers in a cemetery using tombstones as slates. He became one of the foremost mathematicians of all time. His name was Niccolo Fontana.

Poverty was the handicap of this man, also. He was the orphaned son of an Iowa blacksmith. Later he became wealthy and served as President of the United States. His name was Herbert C. Hoover.

Deafness was his handicap. And though he composed some of the world's greatest masterpieces, he could not hear his own music. His name was Ludwig van Beethoven. Blindness and deafness were her handicaps. From the time she was two years old she could neither see nor hear. Yet she remains an inspiration to countless others. Her name was Helen Keller.

A crippled body was the handicap of this man. He was the victim of polio who had a body racked with pain. But he became President of the United States. His name was Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Ill health was his handicap. He was an invalid most of his life and seldom knew a moment without pain. His name was Robert Louis Stevenson.

Ignorance was the handicap of this man. He knew nothing about electricity, but inventions in the field of electricity brought him fame and fortune. His name was Alexander Graham Bell.

Ugliness was the handicap of this lady. She was abused and mistreated as a child. Yet she became one of the world's greatest actresses. Her name was Sarah Bernhardt.

The list could go on and on. Stories of men and women who have overcome handicaps to make a mark in life and leave life a little better than they found it. There is one other similar story I would like to share. His handicaps were disgrace and failure. He was brought up in a little country village on the edge of civilization. He tried preaching but got into trouble with the authorities and was sentenced to die. His execution was that of a common troublemaker. His name was Jesus of Nazareth.

And still we complain because of some little handicap.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

WANTED — SOUL SEARCHING

With Andover facing an approximate $136,000 increase in their S. A. D. 44 assessment due to new State valuation figures, together with increased education costs, and Bethel, Greenwood, Newry, and Woodstock slated to be asked for substantially larger amounts than a year ago, it would appear to be a suitable time to ask "Where will it end?"

Bethel's increase, estimated at about $42,000, reflects nearly a $5.00 per thousand increase in the local tax rate. The other three towns in the district will possibly have increases of about $21,000 for Greenwood; Newry, $4,200, and Woodstock, $11,500.

With other municipal services to provide, towns will be forced to forego projects that require attention now in order to prevent the tax rate, hopefully, from becoming confiscatory, although in Bethel at least, it could quite possibly amount to a figure compared to paying a 4½% sales tax on real estate and personal property.

The argument, however well founded and documented, that education costs are a bargain will do little to soothe the feelings of disgruntled citizens when they receive their tax bills. Many times it will not be a question of whether it is worth it or not, but simply a matter of fiscal means.

Even if it is too late to do anything with this year's budget it might be well before another year passes that others in the district besides the students "Do Their Homework!" jkb.

ALIENS REMINDED THEY MUST REGISTER BY JANUARY 31

C. C. Doughty, District Director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service urges all aliens in Maine who have not yet filled out alien address report forms, to do so before January 31 at the nearest Immigration and Naturalization Service office or local Post Office.

The Immigration officials pointed out that the law requires all non-citizens, except persons in diplomatic status and foreign representatives to certain international organizations, such as the United Nations, to report their addresses to the government each January.

Mr. Doughty added: "The parent or legal guardian of an alien child under 14 years of age must fill out the address report form for such a child in order to comply with the law."

He declared: "We have tried to make it as convenient as possible for non-residents to meet the address report requirements; and, in view of serious penalties for willful violation, all persons subject to the address report law are urged to fulfill this obligation before the end of January."

Mr. Doughty advised: "It is easy for an alien to meet this requirement. He just goes to the nearest Immigration and Naturalization Service office or Post Office, fills out the address report form, and returns it to the clerk. Any non-citizen who is ill may send a friend or relative to obtain the card for him, and return it to the clerk after it has been completed by the alien."

The Immigration official said that 18,000 aliens in Maine already have filled out address reports. He estimated that over 21,000 such reports will be submitted before January 31st.

At this time all aliens in the United States as well as any prospective employer of an alien who is in the United States, are also placed on notice that the issuance of a Social Security Account Card to an alien is not evidence of permission from the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service for the alien to be employed in the United States. Only those aliens who have been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence (lawfully resident immigrants) and those aliens who have been admitted for a temporary stay in the United States (non-immigrants), who have received permission to accept employment from the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, may work in the United States.

Women Like Red

"Red attracts the eye of most women" say the psychologists who are interested in having you buy their product. Just for fun, take note of the amount of red you see on packages in the supermarket the next time you go. The alert homemaker knowing this needs to study labels, compare prices and watch for week end specials in order to get the most for her dollar. Even then, it's no easy job, for today's supermarket has 8,000 items for the modern homemaker to choose from and she has been bombarded with T. V. ads every day.

Spending minutes or so before one goes to the store making out a list, and then sticking to it, helps many homemakers.

ABILITY COUNTS CONTEST DEADLINE JANUARY 31

High school juniors and seniors preparing entries for Maine's 6th Annual Ability Counts Contest were reminded of the January 31 deadline by Employment Security Commissioner Joseph E. A. Cote, chairman of the Governor's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped which sponsors the contest.

Participants are asked to submit a 750-word report on the subject: "What Every Employer Should Know About Handicapped Workers."

Eight prize winners will be selected from entries and will share in $350 worth of U. S. Savings Bonds. C. in May to attend the annual meeting of the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped. The report judged best among the entries also will be entered in the competition for $2,500 in National cash prizes.

All entries should be addressed to the Governor's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped at 20 Union Street, Augusta, Maine, 04330; and must be postmarked not later than January 31.

ette smoking. This orientation program is designed to clarify the viewpoints of both. It should help everyone to know better if his prospect of stopping without joining is good, or if it would be wiser to join the clinic which begins with the second meeting. The clinic will be held on the four following Tuesdays, and all sessions will be held from 7:30 to 8:50 p. m.

Rumford Community Hospital is sponsoring the clinic as a program in community action focused on health education in cooperation with the Maine Interagency Council on Smoking and Health. Father Gerard Parent of St. John's Parish, will serve as chairman for each meeting.

Joseph Hasenfus, coordinator of the Council, will conduct and evaluate a Smoker's Self-Test on the opening night. Participants will score their own tests. Their scores may influence their decisions as to whether to return for the second and subsequent sessions or to make an independent effort to stop smoking.

Also on the opening night program will be Jack Halladjian, M. D., pathologist at Rumford Community Hospital. Dr. Halladjian will present selected information showing the advantages the ex-smoker has over the smoker in respect to good health and will answer questions.

A short film from the Maine Heart Association will show the advantages the non-smoker and the ex-smoker have over the smoker in matters of health especially of the circulatory and respiratory systems.

Free educational materials and copies of the entire clinic program will also be distributed opening night.

Clinic sessions will follow on February 4, 11, 18, and 25. It will provide information about the health hazards of smoking and attempt to increase the motivations to stop. Meetings will include discussions, films and special educational material.

MAINE SNOWMOBILERS WARNED

OF DANGERS OF OPERATING ON RAILROAD RIGHTS OF WAY

Snowmobilers were warned by the Maine Public Utilities Commission Wednesday that it is not only dangerous but also illegal to drive their sleds on railroad tracks or rights of way.

Chairman John G. Feehan issued a statement saying the PUC was told of several instances of snowmobilers being driven along the railroads, even between the rails in some cases. Train crews have reported several accidents and near-accidents, Feehan said, but fortunately no serious injuries have occurred so far. The chairman added that conviction of driving a motor sled on railroad right of way carries a penalty of a fine or jail term.
